Compared to last week: all weight class average prices of feeder steers and heifers ended steady to $2 higher on some front end classes. Slaughter cows remained solid but the slaughter bulls weakened by $5. The slaughter market continues strong even with the huge drought numbers drifting into the market places.

The strong demand for feeder calves also continues to puzzle the market analysts as the negatives such as higher inflation, fuel cost and interest rates should be trending the demand downward yet so far has shown the complete opposite.

The demand however for stocker cows due to the drier, hot weather and fear of hay cost has curbed the interest creating lower figures and forcing older cows to the slaughter arena.
