Weekly Summary

Compared to last weeks market, the weight class average prices of both feeder steers and heifers weighing 500 lbs and down ended mostly firm while those weight classes over 500 lbs felt some resistance and finished $2 to $4 lower. The slaughter cows and slaughter bull figures also backed off about $3 from last week.

Some market leverage was loss by the cattle feeders this past week as the packers cut back on their slaughter rates in order to regain the upper hand. Buyer activity was brisk here today with the feeder calf offering being classified as mixed.

NEXT WEEK WILL BE OUR JANUARY WEANED CALF SALE
