Weekly Summary

With no market comparison due to last week's holiday closing, the different market class figures compared to the pre-holiday closing showed that all classes of both feeder steers and heifers to be firm. Slaughter cows and bulls however ended $2 to $4 higher.

It appears the feeder demand and market continue to be on solid ground as the market fundamentals remain extremely strong entering the 2nd half of the year. Demand along with lower inventory continue to overshadow any negatives to the markets.
