Weekly Summary

Compared to last week's market, most classes of both feeder steer and heifer averages finished firm. We did however witness some market pressure on the lower quality classes. The front-end classes remain solid, but today's offering was a mixed quality. We also are seeing an abnormal number of lighter calves moving due to the strength of the market figures which could produce a lighter offering in the coming months.

The slaughter cows and bull's figures continue to remain strong. It appears the demand also remains strong even with the financial markets imploding due to President Trump's tariffs.

NEXT WEEK WILL BE OUR MARCH WEANED CALVE SALE. PLEASE CALL US BY FRIDAY BY 5:00 AND DELIVERY BY SUNDAY AT 3:00 IF YOU ARE SELLING
