Weekly Summary

Today's ending market average prices compared to last week witness the average prices of all categories of both feeder steers and heifers finished a solid $4 to $8 higher. Slaughter cows still witnessed a strong demand and posted a $3 gain while the slaughter bulls demand remained steady with last week's figures.

Today's feeders calve offering was mostly good with a strong showing of the "new crop" calves arriving signaling this year's calf crop is beginning to be marketed. Even with the negative board figures, buyers brushed this off and continued their gathering of summer grazing feeders. Buyer interest and activity were strong here today on all classes of feeders.
